

Multiplying Decimals

To multiply decimals simply follow these steps:

- 1.Count how many numbers are behind the decimal point in total in both numbers within your question.
- 2.Imagine the decimal point in both of the numbers within your question has disappeared
- 3.Multiply these two whole numbers
- 4.The amount of numbers behind the decimal point in step 1 is the same amount that needs to be behind the decimal point in your answer. E.g. If you start with 2 your answer must have 2. If you started with 10 you finish with 10 etc etc.
